Farmers May Claim

The 1964 duck season opened Monday with less than a loud bang as most hunters in this area haven't taken their shotguns out of the cases yet. Absence of water accounts for the dearth of this type of wildlife and most enthusiasts are sitting back awaiting Oct. 9, opening day for pheasant shooting.

Although duck population is light in the Vulcan area compared to the gray days 10 years ago some damage has been reported from farmers whose crops in swath have been victim of the birds.

Reports from south and east sections of the county indicate that what damage is being done is occurring in these fields.

Alberta farmers whose crops have been damaged by certain game birds and other wildlife can claim compensation under the wildlife Protection Fund.

Curt P. Smith, Director of Fish and Wildlife, reports that compensation up to a maximum of $15 an acre can be claimed for crop damage by ducks, geese, sandhill cranes, deer, antelope and bear. Crops covered by the regulations are wheat, oats, barley, flax, rye, field peas, buckwheat, grasses, clover and field corn grown for seed.

Compensation will be paid whether the crops are still standing, in the swath, in sheaves on the ground, or in stocks. Wildlife damage protection does not, however, apply to crops in the stack or in granaries or to grazing lands.

To obtain compensation, a farmer must get a damage claim form from his nearest Alberta Hail Insurance Board agent. All provincial treasury branches have hail insurance agents. After registering his claim, the farmer must then pay a $25 adjustment fee to the agent. The crop cannot be harvested until it has been appraised by an insurance adjuster.

Mr. Smith points out that this is the first year that farmers have not had to carry crop damage insurance to be eligible for wildlife damage compensation. Damage claims are paid out of a fund developed by the Wildlife Certificate. The fund is raised by assessing all big game and bird hunters an extra dollar on their licenses.

City Court Rejects Claim Against Gas Company

Attend Conference At Banff On Science Education

"A Critique of Science Education's New Look in Theory and Practice" by outstanding educators, scientists, philosophers, psychiatrists, psychologists and other theorists examining the problems involved in achieving a high level of general education in modern science courses at all levels, was studied in a unique conference held Sept. 17 to 20 at the Banff School of Fine Arts, Banff, Alberta. This meeting marked the first time the National Science Teachers Association has held a conference in any country other than the United States.

Representing the County of Vulcan Schools at the conference were V. H. Wellman, B.Sc., Vulcan, and T. H. May, B.A., B.Sc., Lomond.

Co-sponsors of this international conference were the National Science Teachers Association, the National Science Supervisors Association, the University of Alberta and the Science Council of the Alberta Teachers' Association. General chairman was Professor Willard Reese of the University of Alberta, Edmonton, and Program Chairman was Dr. Seymour Trierger of Temple University, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Claims that Canadian Western Natural Gas Company conspired to destroy one of the competitor companies in the gas supply industry have been dismissed in a reserved Supreme Court judgment.

In a decision handed down in Calgary Tuesday Mr. Justice Milvain dismissed claims for damages of $250,000 against International Utilities Corporation of New York and Horatio Ray Milner and John Maybin.

The company controls Canadian Western Natural Gas which supplies southern Alberta's gas. Milner is a director of the company and Maybin an employee.

The case was brought by Central Gas Utilities and Central Gas Utilities (Vulcan) Ltd. who supplied propane gas to Melville, Saskatchewan and Vulcan, Alberta.

They alleged the defendant companies conspired to destroy them in order to stifle any competition in the retail gas field. It was also claimed that, following an agreement made in 1953, Western Natural Gas was a trustee for the Vulcan company and as such should account to the plaintiff companies for its operation.

Dismissing the claim on all counts the judge commented: "I find that the plaintiffs fail in making out a case of conspiracy. There is no evidence of any agreement to effect an unlawful purpose as an ultimate aim or as any part of the means to achieve it."

Costs were awarded against the plaintiff companies.

Bridal Shower Honors Eileen Rutberg

A bridal shower in honor of Mrs. John Nelson (nee Eileen Rutberg) all was held in the Church of Christ lower hall on Tuesday, Sept. 15. The room was tastefully decorated in a pink and white theme. Seated at the table to assist Eileen in opening her many lovely gifts were her mother Mrs. H. Rutberg and Mrs. R. Pelham.

Two interesting contests were presented by Mrs. Jean Gardner and Mrs. Muriel Smith. Miss Dawna Haga rendered two lovely vocal solos which were enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Jean Gardner presented the many gifts to Eileen and wished her much happiness and the best of wishes from all present. Eileen then very graciously thanked everyone for their gifts and good wishes and invited them to visit her and John in their new home in Calgary.

The ladies of the Candlelight Circle then served a lovely lunch to conclude the evening.

County Central Class Honored At Graduation Exercises

Graduation exercises, the final school role of the class of '64 at County Central High School, were held Friday night, Sept. 18.

Students were given the passport to higher learning in the form of diplomas or matriculation certificates; were encouraged to go on and advance their knowledge and education and were given the blessing of speaker Rev. Wellington Dormer in their endeavors.

Following a banquet for graduates and parents, most of whom were in attendance, a crowded auditorium stood as the honored class filed to its place before the stage. Rev. Victor Cowell gave the invocation after which vice-principal Fred Cartwright introduced teachers who in turn gave out 53 "A" awards, recognition of outstanding scholastic achievement.

In presenting diplomas to the graduates, County School Committee Chairman J. M. McKay said he and the committee were thrilled at the exceptional marks made in Grade 12 exams this year. Out of 79 students — 20 took only part of the course — there were 24 successful diploma students and 24 who qualified for matriculation standing.

Class valedictorian Clarence Graff expressed thanks of his classmates to teachers and parents for their faith, interest and encouragement through the years from primary to senior grades. He acknowledged, "We are charter members in the experiment of consolidation and feel we are ready to earn our way separated from the security of school." He felt that despite the rise of automation and uniformity in life today this graduating class consists of 48 members who are still individual in their thinking and actions.

Singled out for special honor among students from Grades 9 to 12 were five winners of Academic Shields. In Grade 9 Lynda Dann was presented a shield by Mrs. Jane Jamison. The Guy Voisey Shield presented by Leonard Voisey in memory of his father who served for years on the school committee, was awarded to Betty McWilliams.

Maxine Atkins received the Grade 11 Academic Shield from principal H. H. Mumby who made the presentation in the absence of its donor, D. D. McQueen, County Secretary.

A present grade 12 student Brian Napp was co-winner of the LaRoche Trophy for outstanding student.

Winner of the Grade 12 Academic Shield was Sam Burger and (Continued On Page 10)

Less Than Half Done

Warm, Windy Weather Needed As Harvest Drags

The off-again, on-again 1964 harvest is expected to get under way the latter part of this week if the forecast of good weather holds true. Several hours of rain Thursday of last week and again on Sunday effectively halted combining operations in most parts of the county area and sunny weather with some wind is needed now to dry out the swaths and allow combining to start again.

In the eastern part of the county, wheat harvesting is estimated to be almost 90% completed, south and west is 40 to 50% completed and in the northern part of the county combining is just nicely started. In the entire county, the wheat harvest is estimated to be about 45% completed.

Yields are ranging from below 20 bushels per acre on stubble and poor land to 35 and 40, with the average yield of spring wheat now expected to be about 27 bushels per acre. Some frozen grain has been received at local elevators and shrivelled kernels show the effects of the dry weather in July and August. Wheat being received now is mostly grading No. 3 and with bleaching also a factor it is anticipated that some will be No. 4.

Farmers are paying more attention to soil drifting control this year, with strips being narrowed and some increase reported in acreage planted to winter wheat and fall rye.

FISH EATERS WANT MEAT

The people of Newfoundland have been importing 95 per cent of their beef requirements. The Flying L ranch, promoted by Saskatchewan cattlemen now have 1,000 cattle in that province. The promoters state that there is room for at least five more ranches there.

Lighting the way of men to betterment is the finest profession known.

Vulcan Delegates At Banff For National Kinsmen Convention

Three Vulcan Kinsmen, President Dick Warren, Amos Hyslop and Bill Warren and wives attended the National Kinsmen Convention held at Banff Sept. 9-12. A total of 1700 delegates, wives and Kinettes made up the biggest National Kin Convention ever held with representation from as far east as Newfoundland and from Victoria in the west.

Entertainment included everything from a rodeo to nightclub entertainers and tours for the ladies. The rodeo, held Friday afternoon was under the direction of Dick Cosgrave of Calgary Stampede fame and was followed by a barbecue and western dance. Tours included the Wax Museum, the Luxton Museum, chair lift and the gondola.

The local group reported a wonderful time with a full agenda planned.

At the first meeting of Vulcan's fall season held Thursday, Sept. 3, the new 1964-65 executive, was installed by District Deputy Governor Bob Parkyn of Lethbridge. There were 16 members and seven guests from the Lethbridge club in attendance.

This year's executive is: President Dick Warren; vice-president, Amos Hyslop; secretary, Bob Petrosky; treasurer, Richard Leback; directors, Vernal Haga, Harvey Jacobson and Mel Burgess; bulletin editor, LaVern Scott. Tickets for the all-expense paid Scales.

CHARLIE SJOGREN AND PRIZE WHITE PLYMOUTH ROCK

Poultry Production Profitable To Brant Hobbyist

They said it couldn't be done. Charlie and Allan Sjogren of Brant and Calgary raise poultry for show purposes and were told by those who know, that birds could not be shipped from here to Toronto with any hope of winning awards at the Canadian National Exhibition.

This year the Sjogrens not only showed the grand champion entry at the CNE but duplicated the feat at the Pacific National Exhibition. Those who said it couldn't be done are eating crow and it doesn't taste like chicken.

Agent for Searle Grain Co. at Brant, Charlie lives opposite his elevator and in the backyard is a large chicken run and small building housing his prize stock in 26 separate pens. His poultry numbers about 125 at Brant while his brother Allan has a few acres near Calgary where he keeps 125. At the Rumsey home of his parents are the balance of about 400 birds.

Although poultry was always part of the Sjogrens farm upbringing, it was not until four years ago that it became a serious hobby. For $50 Charlie was in the game with three birds and through purchases and home raising, the flock has grown.

In the first year of competition at Vancouver's PNE in 1962, the Sjogrens showed six birds and took five firsts and one second. Results of their success in following years is recorded on a wall full of grand champion and lesser ribbons from B.C., Alberta, Manitoba and Ontario shows. Where others have curling, golfing, hunting or fishing trophies on display, the Sjogrens

Ode To Retirement

How do I know my youth is all spent?
My get up and go has got up and went!
But in spite of it all, I am able to grin
When I think where my get up and go has been.

Old age is golden, I've heard it said,
But sometimes I wonder as I get into bed—
With my ears in a drawer, my teeth in a cup,
My eyes on the table until I wake up.

Ere sleep dims my eyes, I say to myself,
"Is there anything else I should lay on the shelf?"
And I'm happy to say as I close my door,
"My friends are the same, only perhaps even more!"

When I was young, my slippers were red—
I could kick my heels right over my head.
When I grew older, my slippers were blue—
But still I could dance the whole night through.

Now I am old, my slippers are black;
I walk to the store — and puff my way back!
The reason I know my youth is all spent?
My get up and go has got up and went.

But I really don't mind when I think, with a grin,
Of all the grand places my get up has been.
Since I have retired from Life's competition,
I busy myself with complete repetition;

I get up each morning and dust off my wits;
Pick up my paper and read the "Obits."
If my name is missing, I know I'm not dead;
So I eat a good breakfast — and go back to bed.

New Highway Legislation

The Honourable Gordon E. Taylor, Minister of Highways, has warned that new legislation passed at the last session of the Legislature became effective on July 1st and mentioned particularly the following three points:

(1) That a fine, up to $500, was the penalty for owning and operating a vehicle or permitting any other person to operate a vehicle that was not covered with a Public Liability and Property Damage Insurance Policy or for which a green certificate had not been purchased. The green certificate indicates that the vehicle is not insured; it gives the owner no protection but does require the owner to pay an additional sum into the Unsatisfied Judgement Fund, from which payments must be made for damages and injuries done by non-insured vehicles.

"A person is much wiser to use the $20 to purchase a P.L. and P.D. Insurance Policy, which gives him some protection," the minister stated.

While a person may operate a vehicle with a green certificate, should he become involved in an accident from which a judgment is secured against him, he could have his entire future mortgaged with a $20,000 or $35,000 judgment.

(2) A new section in the Vehicle and Highway Traffic Act requires the owner of a motor vehicle to have a muffler on his vehicle which does away with excessive noise. Fines for noisy mufflers or for mufflers that are not effective are: (a) For a first offence up to $50; (b) For a second offence up to $100, and (c) For a third offence up to $200.

"Driving on the highways, I have noticed a good number of vehicles with inadequate mufflers and the owners of such vehicles are leaving themselves liable — I would suggest that they have adequate mufflers placed on the vehicles in order to avoid the unpleasantness of convictions and fines," the minister said.

(3) New legislation requires that vehicles not operating close to the maximum speed on a multi lane highway, must use the outside lane; it will be an offence after July 1st for slower vehicles, except for the purpose of making a left hand turn, to use the inside lane unless they are travelling at the maximum speed or close to the maximum speed.

Control Cattle Infestation

"Cattle needn't suffer from infestations of sucking lice", observes a Canada Department of Agriculture researcher.

G. B. Rich, of the federal research station at Kamloops, B.C. reports that excellent control of lice has been obtained in tests with a "pour on" systemic insecticide.

At the station, a single treatment in the fall with Ruelene systemic insecticide controlled the pest over a period of 100 days. A few animals, apparently highly susceptible to infestation, required a second treatment.

Several other chemicals — still in the experimental stage and not yet available commercially — were effective in tests at Kamloops, Mr.

Rich reports. Like Ruelene, they are systemic and pass into the animal's blood stream, killing feeding lice.

Alarm System

The port of Hamburg is experimenting with an alarm system that will tell residents when they should carry umbrellas.

The warning that rain is on the way will be flashed from a luminous column atop a sightseeing tower visible to the city's nearly 2,000,000 inhabitants.

Apart from the general rain warning, consideration is being made to determine ways of indicating how long the rain may last.

"OUR ALBERTA HERITAGE" MASTER FARM FAMILIES

Next time you pass a farm that impresses you by its efficient, well-kept appearance, check to see if the gate has a Master Farm Family plaque. This title is awarded by our Provincial Government to those enterprising, independent businessmen, our Alberta farmers and their families. Every year, five Master Farm Families are chosen - one for each of our five Alberta soil zones.

What makes a Master Farm Family? Good farming, yes... but leadership in other areas such as the farm home and the community are equally important. If the farm you see is not a master farm today, the chances are it will be picked tomorrow. Agricultural leadership is one more reason why we're proud of OUR ALBERTA.

This is an example of the stories of enterprise and courage in Calgary Power's new publication "Our Alberta Heritage". Mail coupon for your free copy.

Standard equipment: a bank loan

It has become almost standard practice today for people to go to their bank to finance the purchase of cars and other family items. You, too, may have found it a good idea to borrow where you save — at your local bank. It is often simpler, because the bank already knows you as a savings customer. And it also may save you money because bank loans are low-cost loans. For borrowing and saving, and for any other bank service you may need, just visit your local chartered bank. It's the one place where you can get all your banking done, under one roof.

THE CHARTERED BANKS SERVING YOUR COMMUNITY

Through 5,650 branches, all across Canada, the chartered banks bring full-range banking within the reach of everyone.

BRINGING NATURE INDOORS

Dried arrangements can be a year round pleasure for you and for others who may enjoy your arrangements.

Now is the time for you to gather your material. Many interesting materials are available close at hand. Cattails, weeds, grains, grasses, poppy heads and many others lend well to drying.

Weeds and grasses can be picked after they've dried along the roadside or in the field. If they are not dry, and you wish to preserve their straight lines, hang them in small bunches with their heads down. To make the stems curve, place them loosely in a container allowing the stems to bend gently over the edge of the container. Dry in a warm area. Materials require a dry heat to be preserved rapidly and successfully.

To preserve your cattails, dip in shellac or paraffin. Perhaps you've had the experience of shattering cattails!

Dried materials lend themselves to interesting one color arrangements. Colors are softer and more subtle than fresh flowers. Your arrangements may be enhanced by a touch of color or from of a few dried pieces purchased from your florist.

An idea you might wish to follow is to gather materials now for your winter bouquet to be used during the festive season. To add spark, cattails could be dipped in silver, gold or bronze paint. This would serve to preserve them.

The simplest method of painting large, and particularly delicate materials is to spray or dip them. To dip cattails, fill a large can or bucket with cold water. Pour the paint on top of the water. Plunge the cattail into the container. When drawn out, the paint attaches itself to the material.

Once your material is thoroughly dried, it's ready to use or, perhaps to store away for future use. Like other accessories in decorating, your winter bouquet isn't meant to be a permanent piece in the room. Perhaps you might have it out for several weeks. Then, it might be dismantled and stored away. Bring it out again at Christmas, add a few festive ornaments, arrangement in a new line, and your gifts of nature take on a new look.

Teachers Pleased With Field Study

Vice-principal Fred Cartwright of the County Central High School, Vulcan and Principal Mrs. Ila Ball of the Brant School represented County of Vulcan Schools when Social Studies and Science teachers from all parts of Alberta, as well as representatives from British Columbia and Great Britain, devoted a week in August to experiencing the techniques of organized field study. Hosted by the Town of Hinton, the Pulp Mill and the Edson School Division, the teachers ascended an alpine meadow, scanned vistas from a fire tower, studied glaciers in Jasper Park, interviewed trail-blazing pioneers and examined historic documents.

The course was designed to make field study an essential part of Social Studies and Science programs. The seminar was sponsored and financed by the Alberta Social Studies Council. Council President, G. J. de Leeuw observed, "The delighted response of the teachers is most encouraging. I am confident that field study in Hinton will continue each August."

Professor E. E. Owen of the University of Victoria, a chief consultant during the week, summed up the central theme, "The essence of field work is the going and looking and thinking about the commonplace reality in the world around us. Inherently this activity is at once both physical and mental — the walking and clambering to a vantage point and the discussion, speculation and appreciation of the visible landscape around us. The activity has been wryly described as learning through the soles of our boots. These procedures have been advocated and practised in Western Europe since the beginning of the century."

Another consultant, Professor Evelyn Moore of the University of Alberta, commented, "In Great Britain there are already over 100 field study centres and the number is steadily increasing. School children from as young as nine years attend the centres for specialized instruction in History, Geography and the Sciences. We hope our seminar will be influential inspiring a similar movement in Canada."

Parents Not Interested

It may come as a shock to some to read elsewhere in this issue of the Advocate an announcement to the effect that the Scouts, Cubs, Guides and Brownies in Vulcan will be discontinued this fall.

According to a Group Committee official, the lack of interest by the parents and the difficulty in getting leaders have both been growing problems and the point has finally been reached where it is felt that it is impossible to carry on.

The same thing has been happening at other points in the county and if this is a trend it is indeed regrettable, for the training given children in the Scout movement is invaluable and is not likely to be gained in any other way.

If enough leaders volunteer their services and there is a revival of interest among parents, the Group Committee could conceivably review its decision and decide to carry on. The reaction of parents to the decision to close down the Scouting movement in Vulcan will be the deciding factor.

On Treacherous Ground

Quebec's Premier Jean Lesage is probably all too right in his observation, made to the annual meeting of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants, that "the participation of the state in the economic and social affairs of the community is not a passing phenomena."

He is, however, on treacherous economic ground when he suggests, as he did in the same speech, that "government activity is not guided by the same motives as private enterprise. The purpose of the latter is to realize a profit, but government must try to put itself at the service of the population."

What Mr. Lesage is in effect saying is that governments can afford to engage and persist in business activities that operate at a loss.

This they can — and do. But is this really a long-term benefit to the community which they are striving so anxiously to serve?

Both Saskatchewan and Newfoundland lay claim to some spectacular business failures where governments through intervention tried to reverse the fundamental laws of demand and supply. They failed, and there is every reason to believe that Mr. Lesage, if he is so rash as to try it, must also fail.

The reason is that Canada's economic order is based on the provision of goods and services that people want. Government intervention, in the sense that Mr. Lesage means involves propping up a business operation which the market-place may have rejected.

HERBS THE YEAR ROUND

There is a right time to harvest herbs. In the case of most herbs, it is the moment the bud opens into full flower. At this time, the plants contain the maximum amount of those flavor containing oils.

The cutting should be completed early enough to allow the plants to grow at least one foot before freezing. Choose a morning after the dew has gone. Cut perennials two thirds the way down the stalk and annuals three or four inches from the ground.

To dry your herbs, tie bunches of stalks together. Hang in a room where there is little light but a good cross current of air. This process requires about one week.

Herbs for cooking should be rubbed through a sieve. Clean glass jars with screw lids are the best containers in which to store your herb harvest. Clear containers allow you to see whether moisture is collecting on the inside of the glass. If this does occur, remove the herb and allow it to dry longer.

Regardless of the storage conditions, herbs will lose their oils within two or three years. Perhaps you should share your crop with others.

4-H CONGRATULATIONS

Barbara Sinnott of the Pincher Creek Clothing Club has placed among the top 4-H club members in the province at Provincial Eliminations. Her award — a two week trip to Saskatchewan on the 4-H Inter-Provincial Exchange. An outstanding member of three 4-H clubs, Barbara has contributed conscientiously and successfully to all 4-H activities in the Pincher Creek area and now throughout the whole province.

Pest Control

When the first prehistoric man began looking for a cave in which to set up housekeeping, he encountered a situation which would make a modern pest control expert throw up his hands in horror and go into some other kind of work. The Encyclopedia Americana tells us that in addition to bats and rats, there were such formidable cave dwellers as cave bears, cave lions, cave leopards and cave wolves. Hence, before Neanderthal man and woman could settle down to domestic life, they had to drive these creatures out. The Encyclopedia Americana says that since mankind's weapons were quite small in those early days, the animals were probably disposed by

Rummage Sale Planned By Church Guild

The Anglican Ladies Guild met in the church basement on Sept. 17 for their first meeting of the season. President, Mrs. Arthur Fitzpatrick, opened the meeting with the Lord's Prayer. Plans were made for a busy fall. A luncheon for the Rt. Rev. George Calvert, Bishop of Calgary, the Confirmation candidates and congregation will take place Oct. 25 at 12:30, immediately following the service of Confirmation.

The fall rummage sale will be held in the church basement on Saturday, Oct. 17, at which time a large quantity of winter clothing will be set out. The annual Christmas tea and Bazaar will take place in the Legion hall on Nov. 28.

Due to the inconvenience of the present date for Guild meetings, it was unanimously voted to hold future meetings the last Wednesday of each month, the next being Oct. 28, at the home of Mrs. Bernice Buehler. Notices will be sent to all Anglican ladies to remind them of this change.

The Rev. Cowell spoke briefly on the value of daily devotions and prayer and gave an informative talk on how this is being carried out in other parishes.

On hand to assist in the celebrations which went with the rebuilding of the premises of Vulcan Supply Co. last week were the company representatives from the firm's supplier, Sunset Stores. Gathered around a fascinating paint demonstration machine are, from left to right; local manager D. R. (Don) Miller; Jim Robertson, Sunset Stores Engineer; Howard Tisdale, Kyanize Paints Canadian Sales Manager; Rolly Hughes, Sunset Stores Supervisor; and Walter Evans, Manager of Sunset Stores.

Patrons to the store were specially attracted to the novel painting device in which various colors of paint were poured over a card and spun at high speed revealing some surprising looking abstract designs.

List Of Driving Regulations Given Motor Scooter Operators

Town police duties include a variety of helpful and instructional programs carried out by Police Chief Gene Moyer. This summer, with the influx of motor scooters to town, he gathered many of the young drivers together for a short lecture and review of driving laws which apply to them as well as automobiles.

Points listed on a pamphlet distributed among the youngsters include:

- 1) You must now have a D. Licence—restricted to No. 6.
- 2) You must have a governor that works to keep the machine at not more than 30 miles per hour.
- 3) You must yield the right-of-way to pedestrians at intersections.
- 4) You must not go up and down the alleys except when you are actually going someplace and then at very slow speeds . . . all alley exits are stop signs and must be obeyed.
- 5) Speed signs and stop signs must be obeyed at all times.
- 6) Drive only on the right hand side of the street. No U-turns between intersections. Park only on the right hand side and in the proper manner.
- 7) During the school year 20 miles per hour near schools and all year remember that the swimming pool and park are slow zones.

Radio-Phono Set Donated To Lodge

The September meeting of the Good Deeds Women's Institute met at the farm home of Mrs. George Dingwall and was attended by nine members and one visitor. The roll call was answered with a white elephant. These items were then auctioned; Mrs. Clarence Brown, auctioneer, led the ladies in lively bidding netting a total over five dollars.

Several years ago the Good Deeds banked to their account about three hundred dollars, proceeds from the sponsoring of a magazine sale in the district. The radio phonograph recently donated by the group to the Peter Dawson Lodge was from this money leaving a balance still of close to ninety dollars which will be used for some future, similar need in the community. The ladies welcomed Mrs. Nobert as a new member.

Initial plans for an October bake sale were made with Mrs. Clarence Brown to see about renting the Legion Hall and Mrs. Bob Hutton and Mrs. Robina Hutton volunteering to make posters. A $25.00 food hamper will be raffled. Tickets were distributed among the members present.

A motion was passed to present speakers invited to the group a gift as a token of appreciation. Regret was expressed that Mrs. Gerald Newman, district convener, was unable to attend this September meeting. Mrs. Norman Whitehead delivered a short paper dealing with the stress of members living.

A very delicious lunch, salad, buttered fruit bread and a variety of cakes with tea or coffee was served by the hostess, Mrs. George Dingwall assisted by Mrs. Les Duckmanton and Mrs. Norman Whitehead. Mrs. Sam White won the tea raffle.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bell spent the weekend at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Pete Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Burris, Mr. and Mrs. F. Burger, Mr. and Mrs. T. Burger, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Buck Cockwill attended the Graduation Exercises at Vulcan. Karen Burris, Sam Burger, Donna Williams and Bob Cockwill were with the graduation class.

Sam Burger and Bob Cockwill left this week to start classes at the University of Alberta in Calgary.

Pete Brown is driving a new Pontiac.

The farmers in the district were putting in long hours the first of last week trying to get in their crops but everything came to a halt on Thursday afternoon when it started to rain again. There is a lot of grain still in the fields.

Those from Arrowwood who received academic awards at the graduation were Sam Burger, Bob Cockwill, Ruth Holoboff and Heide Daxbock.

Jay Beagle from Calgary was a visitor in the district last week.

The Home and School held their first meeting of the new school year on Tuesday night with a very good attendance in spite of harvest operations. Regular business was dealt with and they would like two members to attend the workshop at Banff. The new members of the teaching staff were introduced.

Bill Shields from Vulcan gave a very interesting talk on Youth, You and the Community. Lunch was served by Mrs. Bert Williams and Mrs. Leigh Williams.

There will be a community shower held in the community hall for Sylvia Reed on Saturday night, Sept. 26.

Mr. and Mrs. Wes. Whittemore of Elgin, Ore., visited at Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Williams last week. Mrs. Whittemore is the granddaughter of Tommy Williams who used to live in the district.

F.W.U.A. MEETING
The Arrowwood FWUA held their regular meeting on Wednesday Sept. 2. Members and visitors were asked to answer roll call with suggestions as to how to prepare for financing their children's future education. On member suggested that the time to start was now. She and her husband have to finance two university students so they are well aware of the costs of modern education. Another member suggested that the family allowance cheque be put in an education account.

The local nas offered to cater for the Reid-Boyd wedding which will take place in October. The treasurer's report showed that funds are at a low ebb so members were asked for suggestions for raising money. The book of Arrowwood cost over $1600 to produce but has been a very worthwhile undertaking. Copies have been ordered from many distant points and books have gone all over the States, Eastern Canada and London England.

Wendy Oberholtzer played a piano solo. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Eleanor Oberholtzer and Mrs. Darwin House. Flower arrangements by Mrs. House were the centre of attraction.

At the next meeting plans are to be made for a tour of the Institute of the Blind new building in Calgary. Each member has been asked to donate towards a gift for the Peter Dawson Home in Vulcan.

The next meeting will be held on Oct. 7, at which time Mrs. R. F. Williams will demonstrate how to make terry towel pillows.

MOSSLEIGH

Mrs. Viola Blase and Herb Brown of Calgary spent Tuesday at the Lloyd Brown and John Christie homes.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd MacDonald of Hanna on the birth of a daughter. A sister for Leslie and Douglas.

A lovely shower in honor of Miss Hazel Bodell was held at the home of Mrs. Archie Hay. Hazel was the recipient of many lovely gifts.

Report From Parliament Hill

(By Lawrence E. Kindt, M.P.)

My brief visit to the Macleod Riding last week again proved to me the need for the Members of Parliament to get away from Ottawa in order to discover the grass roots feelings of their constituents.

As everyone knows, this has been a long continuous session of Parliament with the most tiresome part being on the flag debate. I am grateful for the many letters, resolutions and telegrams I have received from organizations and individuals from my riding on the flag issue. For example, nearly all the Legions in the Macleod Riding have asked me to support the Red Ensign as our national flag and were opposed to Mr. Pearson's three leaf, maple leaf design. Many private citizens have written, all expressing the same view. In addition, local Social Credit Associations have forwarded letters and resolutions asking me to support the Red Ensign. The Progressive Conservative Associations have expressed their views and are all behind the Red Ensign and have asked me to lend support to their views in Parliament. With these organizations and individuals of the Macleod Riding expressing unanimous support for the Red Ensign, I have done everything possible to back up the apparent majority views of my constituents.

The question of a design for a new Canadian Flag has now been referred to a Parliamentary Committee, which is to report back to Parliament in about six weeks' time. I think everyone will agree that this is the most sensible solution of the matter and, in my view, should have been done in the first place. A National Flag cannot have the appearance of being a political flag. The Committee of the House of Commons will meet behind closed doors and if it is successful in arriving at a nearly unanimous conclusion on a design, such design cannot be associated with any political group. This is the way it should be. Why it took weeks of debate to impress this rather elementary fact on the government no one seems to be able to understand.

The lengthy debate on the flag brought forth certain information that the Flag Committee must consider during its deliberation. Perhaps the most important information produced is that approximately 40% of the people of Canada wish to retain the Red Ensign as our national flag, and about 40% wish to have a flag that does not incorporate the Union Jack as such; the other 20% apparently do not have any views or don't care. It is quite clear from this information that the information seems to be quite reliable) that neither Mr. Pearson's design nor the Red Ensign is acceptable as a national flag by even a simple majority of the Canadian people. Consequently, if we are to have a flag for our Hundredth Birthday, it must be of a design that is generally acceptable to most Canadians; it is impossible to have a flag design that the majority of Canadians will not accept. Most of us have strong personal views on this matter, but if we are going to keep our country together, all of us must be prepared to make some effort to accept the viewpoint of others in some measure at least.

As has been indicated on other occasions, there is a flag design circulating around Parliament Hill, which appears to be acceptable to quite a number of Members of all parties, and which does include certain elements of the Union Jack. For this reason I think the chances of the Flag Committee arriving at a generally acceptable design are quite hopeful.

On the other hand, there are some members of the Flag Committee who are known afraid that this will not help the Committee as a whole to reach a near unanimous decision on any design at an early date.

Unfortunately, during the discussion on the flag and the effort of the Progressive Conservative Party in support of the Red Ensign, the term "filibuster" has been wrongly applied by the press. The word has been borrowed from the U.S. and is a procedure which is used in the U.S. Congress. The rules under which "filibuster" takes place in the U.S. Congress are totally different from any procedure which may take place in our Parliament. In a U.S. filibuster, speakers are unlimited as to time and on occasions are known to speak for hours and hours on end. In the Canadian Parliament, speeches are limited to 40 minutes and these speeches must be related to the subject matter. In addition, Parliamentary rules provide that the day's sitting ends at 10:30 p.m. unless extended by unanimous consent. Thus, it can be seen that the borrowed term of "filibuster" has no application in Canada.

Poultry Production Profitable To Brant Hobbyist

have engraved ash trays, serving bowls and mementos denoting their successful hobby.

A 20 month old White Plymouth Rock shown above took Grand Champion at this year's CNE poultry show and 10 judges picked this cock from 7,025 entries shown by 390 exhibitors from Canada and the U.S. Nine birds were in various events from the Sjogren brothers and they also won the Best Trio event with a male and two female birds.

At the PNE at Vancouver this year a Buff Orpington Cock took grand champion honors and with 23 birds on display 21 firsts and two seconds were recorded.

Most spectacular achievement for the Sjogrens came at the 1963 Calgary show in which they took awards for the champion cock, champion hen, champion cockerell and champion pullet and trio events.

Excepting for their size, and these prize winners stand almost as high as turkeys, the untrained eye does not see too much difference between these show birds and those on the plate for Sunday dinner.
Judges though, have spent up to two and a half hours at contests studying the type, conformation, cleanliness, size, weight, tail and wing feathers and other telling distinctions between a good rooster and a champion.

Cleanliness consists of four washings of the bird, using detergents, clear water and adding glycerine to the final immersion to bring up the reflective highlights of the feathers.

Value of the birds range from those which "Just aren't for sale" to others priced from $5 to $50.

Preparing the birds for show requires almost hand feeding during the final weeks of a powdered milk mixture and fattening mash but normally no special care is taken in diets. In fact Charlie commissioned a friend to raise a number of birds for him and they were left in comparative freedom and showed exceptional growth and appearance.

In addition to eight varieties of leghorns the Sjogrens raise White Plymouth Rocks, four varieties of Wyandottes, Buff Orpingtons, Row and single Comb Anconas and a Silver Spangled Hamburg. In the chicken run are also tame ducks and several white Chinese Geese.

In other years the Vulcan district has had farmers who raised poultry for show and Charlie is interested in meeting or hearing from anyone interested in taking up this hobby. Visitors to his layout are welcome.

Meanwhile Charlie is putting his theory "Good care and attention" to work in preparation for the Calgary Poultry show Dec. 7, 8 and 9th.

Graduation Exercises Held

making the presentation was Miss M. McKay.

In memory of her husband Harry LaRoche, Mrs. Eunice LaRoche presented the LaRoche Trophy to grade 12 graduate, Donna Schneider chosen best all-round student of the past year.

Sudden illness of the Rt. Rev.
Calvert, Bishop of the Calgary Anglican Diocese brought a change in speaker to the program and Principal H. H. Mumby acknowledged his regret at the sudden development and his thanks to the hastily summoned Rev. Dormer of Vulcan United Church.

In describing the changes the years have brought and new variations to be faced by the graduates, Rev. Dormer spoke of an earlier time in his life when, as a school teacher, he earned a total of $575 a year at the profession and had the nerve to get married in this financial state.

In facing the new challenge of the future the speaker urged his student listeners to consider a few basic points: "You must have faith in your work — believe in it and that it is right and take pride in it, not only in money earned but in the good done and service given."

A guide or password in future life, said the speaker, is love and sacrifice. "We live interdepend-ently of each other. This calls for love and sacrifice towards our neighbors and to society."

Rev. Dormer warned the students not to be afraid or become depressed at making mistakes but to profit from those mistakes and in closing he told them, "You must go out in the world putting your faith and trust in one greater than yourselves."

Blueprint for Convenience

When planning your new home, include extension telephone outlets to always have a phone within reach. You'll want one in the kitchen to save steps and stairs and time... there should be one in the bedroom for night calls... a phone for Dad in his den or workshop... and a phone in the family room for all to enjoy. Extension phones today mean more than convenience — they add a colorful modern accent to every decor. Tele-plan your new home with extension phones in color.

Phone your local AGT office for the informative booklet: "But Where do the Telephones Go?" — detailed information on how to tele-plan your home for convenience.

Color extension phones available in these decorator colors:

TURQUOISE · SAND BEIGE · CLASSIC IVORY · FORGET-ME-NOT BLUE · CAMELLIA PINK
